Team Geismar,

Each year, we look forward to celebrating the accomplishments of our extended Geismar family. Each person represented in this issue of the Geisette have all graduated from their schools or programs and will be moving on to the next phase of life. We even have a current employee featured in this issue who earned a Bachelor's degree in Electrical Engineering (Go, Evan!). We are extremely proud of all those listed in this issue and everything they have accomplished! We cannot wait to see what more they will accomplish in the future.
